

The Three Apples Book Award was established in 2006 as collaborative effort of the School Library and Youth Services sections of the New York State Library Association.

The award is based completely on input from youth readers.

Readers nominate their favorite books throughout the fall, and these finalists represent the 15 most nominated titles at each level.

We encourage readers to explore these books throughout the winter to prepare for voting in April.

Visit nyla.org/3apples for more information.
